

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An apparatus having a memory box function manages the use states of data stored in memory boxes in units of memory boxes, and also manages charging unit
5 information about the use of data. This makes it possible to calculate charges for the use of data in units of memory boxes.